Asynchronous Learning

ASYNCHRONOUS LEARNING TOOLS

Forums

Collaboration & sharing of ideas over certain time period

May take longer to arrive at decisions or conclusions

Dissemination of ideas and comments

May take longer to arrive at decisions or conclusions

Web logs (Blogs)

Streaming Audio/ Video

Lecture delivery through playback

It is static and does not cater for interaction

Tracking of learning resources

Document Libraries

Adequate management of storage media highly needed

Surveys and pools

Evaluates teaching trends and performances

Requires clear definition and proper coordination

SOME TIPS

- ❖ Develop an environment where learners can discuss and interact.
- ❖ Create an online forum to encourage collaboration.
- ❖ Include resource links within your learning course.
- ❖ Set expectations and learning objectives up front
- ❖ Make your design Intuitive and user-friendly
- ❖ Be consistent with communications

This document is from CENTA's self-paced course on Online Teaching
Visit m.centa.org for more resources

cenTa®
Centre for Teacher Accreditation